AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

LESSON TEXT—Amos 5:1-27
GOLDEN TEXT—Let judgment run down as waters and righteousness
as a mighty stream.
A PRIMARY TOPIC—Training for body Right.
A SECONDARY TOPIC—The Kingdom

God Hears.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TROOP.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TEXTS—A Squaring for God's Ammonite Texts—
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULTS—The
I.—The Conditions of Deicide Ammonite

1. Israel's Deicide Practiced (vv. 1-3).

Amos lamented over the doom which was to overtake the nation Israel "is called a virgin because she had never been subdued by any foreign nation (see Isa. 53:12). The falling to rise no more sets forth the utter desolation and helplessness of the land with the Assyrians subdued the nation. From this captivity Israel never returned. Those who came back from the Babylonian captivity were called from Egypt.

II. The Call to Return to God (vv. 4-6).

God through the prophet says to the people "I will be merciful to you and ye shall live." The prophet's testimony is that while the divine judgments are not executed on the sinners, the people are not to turn to God. In their turning to God they were to renounce:

1. Idolatry (vv. 5, 6).

They were to turn away from the places of idolatry—Bethel, Gilgal, and Beersheba. God's judgment was to strike these places.

If they would not return to Him, He would be their destroyer. The God is a consuming fire." The one who can give life to the dead.

2. Cease to pervert information

(v. 7).
 "Turn judgment to wormwood," implies the bitterness of the punishment of justice to the injured.
 3. Cease to deride me, because I am leaving off righteousness; I have thought to mention that as a reproach to thee.
 The third exhortation the Lord's name is given with the following statement of some of His works:
 1. "Maken the sea into dry land;" Orion? 2. "Turneth the strength of might into mourning;" 3. "The day dark with night;" 4. "I will make for the waters of the sea and pass over them out upon the earth;" both in rain and deluge; 5. "I have made the spoil against the strong."
 III. The Sins Committed by the Wicked Nation (vs. 10-13).
 1. They hated the voice which had denounced their wicked practices (v. 10).
 2. They abhorred all that spoke uprightly (v. 10).
 This most likely referred to the prophets themselves who had turned up their sins and urged uprightness of life.
 3. They trampled upon the poor (v. 11).
 The rich built magnificent houses out of the proceeds extorted from the poor.
 4. They afflicted the just (v. 12).
 The just did by him as he would.
 5. They turned aside the feet in the gate (v. 12).
 Because they had no money the poor were turned aside.
 It was most difficult for the poor to get justice. The times were so evil that the prudent would best keep silence.
 IV. The Conduct of the Righteous (vv. 14, 15).
 No condition in the world, religious, social or political can become so difficult that the righteous are shut off from help. The righteous can:
 1. Stand firm (v. 14).
 Those who seek good shall have with them the Lord God of Hosts.
 2. Hate the evil (v. 15).
 Evil must be hated. The sin against man must be settled before God can

3. Establish judgment in the gate

Establish judgment in the gate.
It was the custom in that day that the courts of justice to sit in the gate of the city. The prophet urges upon them the responsibility to place him on the throne in charge of public affairs.

V. The Judgment to Fall (vs. 10-20)
There is coming a day of retribution. Justice and right shall be dictated. This will be realized in the day of the Lord (II Thess. 2:14).
In Judg. 5:20, "The Lord is righted at that time. May we trust by prayer, "thy kingdom come."

VI. Worship Without Helms of Life and an Abomination to God (vs. 21-23)
Sacrifices, observance of feast days and singing, when the heart is not of fellowship with God, is most displeasing to Him.

Two Different Things

two different things. If the love of two different things. If the love of this world dwell in thee, the love of God forsakes thee; renounce that, and receive this: it is fit that the abode of love should have the best place and acceptance.

Seen On the Road

Many Chances Taken—Some Get Away, Others Get Theirs

I've rode about considerably in the last few weeks. Buried gasoline and the saying goes. Been to Lewiston and Auburn 15 times in about 20 days. Seen some curious sights.

A good sized man riding a "go-devil" over the cement, cap blew off, taking all the hair off his head along with it. When he stopped, and it was some ways from where he parted with cap and wig, he didn't look like the same man. He really hung his head when returning for those useful articles.

The red light at Lisbon Street and Main Street held up traffic until the cars almost reached the big bridge. One driver attempted to "cut out" just in front of our car, but he didn't know his mind and remained in the procession.

The two lovers on the Danville road recently mentioned in this paper, will get married in the next few days, even though they may have a legal right to walk in the highway. They take great chances of getting killed.

Twenty-five cars in a line, loaded with sight-seers were not coming up through the wilderness of hillbilly from Bath were seen one afternoon. Why do men, month advertising billboards thrive so well on that strip of road?

Maybe it's permitted so as to cover up the existing natural scenery of the road. It's possible.

Several disabled cars by the roadside have been inspected. One was a "go-devil" with a broken axle. The driver was taken to a doctor. No one knew the cause of the accident. One week later to a day and night, the car was left on the road and ploughed into the bushes, not 50 feet from where the former one did. What was the cause? I don't know. The car was greatly battered and bent. This was in Woodstock.

A little side of the Oxford road, crossing an Essex car had deliberately jumped the road at right angles to the left, right side up, near the fence. Many cars and people were in consultation. No one seemed to know how it happened. A detached looking man near the wreck was asked if anyone was hurt. He said, "No." The car didn't seem to be in bad shape either. What was the cause? I don't know.

A car dogged round a slow moving truck at the top of a hill on the Fryburg-Bridgton road. A head-on collision was averted by Walter slowing down and getting into the ditch. What was the cause? Simple, fool-hardy carelessness of the driver.

A wild car rushed up the other night in the dark, alongside, and attempted to pass. Horn not sounded. It was on a bend in the road. This was done several times. Once I thought we were to be side-swiped by a drunken driver. It was just before you get to Minot Corner from Lewiston. When the car passed, a woman was at the wheel. She didn't know the rules of the road or how to drive. That was the cause.

Several cars have been seen to pass railroad crossings at full speed and the driver neither looking to the right nor left. That is not driving with reasonable safety. I wonder why more people are not killed.

WEST LOVELL

"Buy or Borrow a Copy"—Our local correspondent is authorized to take subscriptions. The West Lovell Telephone Co., met Oct. 19th, in the evening, at Library Hall. The usual business was transacted and the following officers elected: President, Alexander Laroque; secretary and treasurer, D. M. Fox; trustee, Mandell LeBaron.

Mrs. Alexander Laroque had an ill turn recently and a physician was called. Mrs. Z. McAllister was with her two days while Mr. Laroque picked apples and Oct. 23 she moved to her daughter's, Mrs. Geo. Gurtill's.

Mrs. Z. McAllister and son, Byron and family, moved to Bethel, Oct. 23, and took dinner with her sister-in-law, Addie Maxwell, at her home. Mrs. McAllister was called at her brother's, Porter Farwell's, and family, at East Bethel.

Z. McAllister spent the day with his sister, Mrs. Hattie Noble, at the camp. He was thrown Saturday night, Oct. 23, by a cow he was leading and struck his face on a rock. The swelling on the face closed one eye. A physician was called who treated at his home.

There was a good crowd at the harvest supper at Library Hall, Saturday night, Oct. 22, and everybody seemed to have a good time. Linwood Sawyer got the lucky number on the quilt, which was disposed of that evening.

NORTH BRIDGTON

"Buy or Borrow a Copy"—Our local correspondent is authorized to take subscriptions. Another former track pupil of coach Sampson's of Bridgton Academy and who is stepping into the limelight right away in college is James Friebe of North Bridgton. While in Bridgton Academy he was a high jumper and hurdler and won many points and medals for his school. He also ran at times upon the relay team. This fall he entered the University of Maine and in the Pumpkin Meet, which is held between Bates and the Freshmen, he made an excellent showing. He tied for third place in the high jump, secured a second place in the low hurdles and qualified in the broad jump but did not compete in the final. He is also out to make the Freshman relay team which team runs the Juniors in about two weeks. During his four years at Bridgton Academy he was rated as an honor student and won the second highest honors in his class, receiving the honor part of salutatorian. He is also making out well in his studies in college and is one of the most promising Freshmen.

BETHEL

Mrs. Ellen Burbank Dead—Mrs. Ada Wright died in Hudson, N. Y.—Harry Bryant Moved to Flagstaff—Almon H. Hutchinson Passed Away.

Mrs. Ellen Maria (Sanborn) Burbank passed away Saturday morning a little past 8 o'clock at her late home on South Street, after a period of several months of failing health. She was the widow of the late Gustavus A. Burbank, who passed away March 22, 1900, and daughter of the late David and Virtue (Baker) Sanborn, who were pioneers of the town, settling on the bank of the Androscoggin river, designated as the Sanborn interval. She was born March 9, 1839, and had enjoyed remarkably good health until recent years of her long life, 88 years, 7 months and 20 days. Mrs. Burbank was a charter member of Sunday School, and at the time of her death she was the oldest surviving member and charter member of the lodge, of which she was treasurer for many years. She was a faithful, valued member, and attended the meetings very regularly even in her advanced years. Her life has been one of usefulness and kind deeds until recent years. She was much among her friends, never refusing a call either day or night. Mrs. Burbank was a very domestic woman, looking after her home interests and enjoying social contacts. Her personality was enjoyed by all her friends, and they were many. Mrs. Burbank was of colonial lineage, being the granddaughter of Simon Sanborn, who was a Revolutionary War soldier, and the passing of her father's family of five, who all lived past the three-quarter century mark. Mrs. Burbank leaves her three children, Mrs. Nora A. Burbank, Mrs. Nellie M. Burbank of Bethel, and Morton G. Burbank of Westwood, N. J. How many of the rooms in your house will be livable this winter?

Now is the time to remember those icy, shut-off rooms, those "overcoat breakfasts" of last winter, and then decide to let us tell you about the Estate Heatrola.
Because the Heatrola operates with a double air-circulating system, it will flood every room in your house with healthfully moistened heat. Even the chilliest bedrooms will be as cheerfully warm as the room in which the Heatrola stands.
And the Heatrola is more than a heating plant—finished in mahogany-colored, vitreous enamel, it is a beautiful piece of furniture which will harmonize with your prettiest things.
Come in today, or invite us to call. Learn all about the Heatrola before cold weather gets a chance to tighten its grip on your home.
